Sherman to keep off the street while the Coxey Commemorial is in Washington. "The Chicago contingent of the army," he continues, "is coming supplied with dynamite for all such plutocrats."

Mr. Bynum does not know whether to be alarmed or treat the matter as a joke. If Mr. Nugent is coming with any such intentions as involve the throwing of dynamite, or even has any concealed about his person, he is likely to be spotted and incidentally locked up. The district police and the Government authorities are taking no chances, and they calculate that a good many such cranks as Mr. Nugent seems to be are sure to follow the army. The City Directory of Chicago gives the names of but two Charles Nugents and neither man lives in the West Division.

THE SLOW COACH CONGRESS.
The following summary of proceedings in Congress is from the San Francisco Bulletin:

"The debate in the Senate over the tariff sections continues with slow progress. The Republicans believe they can keep off action on the bill for some time, and the Democrats are planning some means by which work can be carried without crushing the 'traditions' of the Senate in the matter of law-making."

It is not likely that any plan of continued hostility will be carried further than to secure thorough discussion of the proposed changes in the Wilson bill, and the devotion of extra time for considering the bill will facilitate matters. There will not be many more set speeches, for the Democrats do not propose to use the time to any extent in that way. The Republicans hope the Democratic schism, led by Hill, may be enlarged, and the Democrats are working hard to keep their forces intact.

"The House is making progress with the Appropriation bills. The Diplomatic and Consular bill was completed last week. A special order may be necessary to secure the passage of the regular Appropriation bill, if factious opposition is made. The Army bill was passed Monday."

"Both Houses adjourned yesterday, owing to the death of Senator Stockbridge of Michigan."

In a report of a speech by Senator Hale the following appears:

Hale read an interview with Brice, in which he said compromise measures would be agreed upon and presented as an amendment to the pending bill, and the income tax, with certain modifications, would be retained. No man engaged in making up the new proposition has seen fit to deny it. Did any one doubt the sugar schedule has been fixed up to suit the refiners and sugar producers of Louisiana, or that Nebraska would be ground between the upper and nether millstones? Did the Senator from Tennessee know the stock of the Sugar Trust had risen from $5 to 100 as a result of the proposed compromise? Did the Senator doubt the metal schedule was to be torn and distorted so that he would never recognize it? He could say, in spite of whatever denials had been made, the whole bill was to be reconstructed and the Senators who early and late made known their antipathy to it were to be precipitated in order to gain votes.

It is probable the rebellion in Brazil will be continued while Da Gama is absent in Europe.

A London despatch of April 26 says: The movement looking to a British protectorate over the Samoan Islands is no longer disguised. To all appearances, a secret understanding exists between Great Britain and Germany, which includes also the United States. A person in high authority here, questioned by a reporter of the Associated Press regarding the attitude of England and Germany on the attempt being made by New Zealand to assume administration of the Samoan Islands, stated to-day that the protectorate movement upon the part of Great Britain was progressing with the sanction of the United States Government, which is represented as caring nothing as to who manages Samoa as long as the rights of the United States under the Berlin treaty are continued. Color is given to this assertion by United States Ambassador Thomas E. Bayard, who in an interview to-day said of Sir John Thurston, Governor of the Fiji Islands and the British Commissioner for the Western Pacific: "The presence and counsels of men of such ability would, in my opinion, offer a happy solution to the present difficulties."

New South Wales objects to Samoa being placed under New Zealand's care.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr of 125 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by all dealers. Henson, Smith & Co., Agents for the Hawaiian Islands."

ODD CHAP IN HAND.

From Cabin to Steerage and Thence to Jail.

William Everett Stone, a very peculiar character, was arrested on the S. S. Monowai this morning, as a stowaway, and is now one of the "dead head" lodgers at the Police Station. Stone is about thirty-five years of age, and if his story is to be believed, he has been a great man in his time. In the first place he is the son of a rich banker in Sydney, N. S. W. He journeyed to America and became a citizen. After five years he was appointed American Consul, where, he failed to tell. He resigned and became a cashier in a bank. His last exploit was in San Francisco, where he was arrested on a charge of embezzlement. He assumed the role of a lunatic and was committed to the Stockton asylum. After being in confinement three months he escaped and lived in the suburbs. He became tired of this sort of life and visited his wife, who lived in the city. He told her that he was going back to Sydney, and would attend to her transportation when he arrived home. Stone took passage in the cabin of the S. S. Monowai, and amused his fellow passengers with musical selections on the piano and his wit. Four days after his embarkation the purser asked him for his ticket. Mr. Stone answered that he had none, and requested that he be allowed his passage to Sydney, where his father lived. The latter would make the deficiency good. Captain Carey was consulted and he declined to take him any farther than Honolulu. At the same time Stone was relegated to a bunk in the steerage for the remainder of the passage. Now he complains of his treatment, stating that his best clothes have been spoiled, and his countenance put off color by the steerage associations. He called on Consul General Mills this morning.

Stone is quite a talkative fellow, and is very dramatic in his actions. It is believed, however, by the authorities, that he is a "little off."

Mormon Missionaries.
Fourteen Mormon missionaries, including two women, have arrived here on their way to various points in the Pacific. Three are destined for New Zealand, four for Tasmania and New South Wales, four for Samoa and three for Hawaii.

One of the missionaries says there never was a time when the Mormon Church was more prosperous or more active in securing converts. During the past year it sent out 400 missionaries to all parts of the world. Each is voluntarily paying his own expenses. Most of them are farmers.

Pleurisy, Chills and Fever—Milk Leg—Perfect Cure.

"After my baby was born I got into very serious condition, having pleurisy, chills and fever, gradually developing into milk leg. We live 20 miles from a physician and did not know what to do. Finally after a great deal of suffering I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and when I was using the third bottle I could see it was doing me good."

I continued with another bottle, and recovered so rapidly that now I am in good health. I cordially recommend it as a good medicine."
